

Tuesday, 30 January 2018, The Melville Times, page 2, Steven Thiele (Year 12)

Australia Day award winners with Melville Mayor Russell Aubrey.

Honours flow for City's citizens

MORE than 600 people attended Australia Day celebrations at John Creaney Park in Bull Creek on Friday.

Ann Taylor was named City of Melville's Citizen of the Year for her work with Princess Margaret Hospital Volunteers, the Anglican Parish of Applecross Mothers Union Group, the World Organisation for Early Childhood Education and Association for the Welfare of Children in Hospital WA.

Darcy Pickett, an active and passionate advocate for volunteering, and Steven Thiele, an outstanding student who encourages volunteering in the community, picked up Youth Citizen awards.

Attitudinal Healing WA (AHWA) secured the Community Group of the Year award.

AHWA raises awareness of dementia and breaks down stigmas for people in the City living with the condition. The celebrations also included a citizenship ceremony and a barbecue breakfast.

Audrey and Jennifer Buckley.

Savana Boby, Miranda Lawrence and Miron Boby.

Pauline Boland, Olivia Boland and Soyoung Shin.